

Describing Maps

76 Look at the following map of Bangladesh and describe the population density of its different districts :

Ans :

Description of the map of population density of Bangladesh

It is a map of our country Bangladesh. The map shows the population density of different districts. In six districts, the population density is the lowest. It is only 500 per square kilometre. These six districts are Bagerhat, Barguna, Patuakhali, Khagrachhari, Rangamati and Bandarban. Thirty districts are inhabited by 501-1000 people per square kilometre. These districts are Panchagarh, Thakurgaon, Dinajpur, Kurigram, Joypurhat, Naogaon, Chapai Nababganj, Natore, Sherpur, Meherpur, Jhenidah, Magura, Faridpur, Manikganj, Narail, Gopalganj, Shariatpur, Satkhira, Khulna, Barisal, Pirozpur, Jhalokati, Bhola, Cox's Bazar, Noakhali, Netrokona, Sylhet, Sunamganj, Habiganj and Moulvibazar 21 districts have 1001-1500 people per square kilometre. They are Rangpur, Nilphamari, Lalmonirhat, Gaibandha, Bogra, Jamalpur, Rajshahi, Sirajganj, Tangail, Mymensingh, Kishoreganj, Brahmanbaria, Pabna, Kushtia, Chuadanga, Rajbari, Jessore, Madaripur, Laxmipur and Chittagong. Gazipur, Narsingdi and Feni have 1501-2000 people per square kilometre. And Dhaka, Munshiganj, Narayanganj, and Comilla are the inhabitants of above 2000 people per square kilometre. So these are the most densely populated region of the country.

77 Look at the map of Dhaka and describe in details :

Ans :

Description of the map of Dhaka

Dhaka is the most important district of the country. The map shows at least 17 areas of Dhaka. These areas are Tongi, Dakshin Khan, Pallabi, Mirpur, Gabtoli, Kafrul, Badda, Tejgaon, Khilgaon, Hazaribag, Motijheel, Kamrangirchar, Sutrapur, Demra, Keraniganj, Shyampur and Shiddhirganj. Dhaka city is the capital of Bangladesh.

78 Look at the map of Rajshahi Division and describe in details :

Map of Rajshahi Division

Ans :

Description of the map of Rajshahi Division

Rajshahi is a northwestern division of Bangladesh. This division has eight districts-Rajshahi, Gaibandha, Naogaon, Nawabganj, Jaipurhat, Bogra, Natore, Pabna and Sirajganj. The districts of Rajshahi, Nawabganj, Naogaon and Jaipurhat have border with the West Bengal province of India to the West.

79 Look at the map of Khulna Division and describe in details :

Map of Khulna Division

Ans : Description of the map of Khulna Division

Khulna Division is the southwestern division of Bangladesh. It is bordered with the West Bengal province of India to the West and with the Bay of Bengal to the south. Khulna Division has ten districts in total. They are Khulna, Bagerhat, Satkhira, Jessore, Narail, Jhenidah, Magura, Chuadanga, Meherpur and Kushtia. Kushtia is the northernmost district, and Khulna, Satkhira and Bagerhat lies to the south.

80 Look at the map of Rangpur Division and describe in details :

Map of Rangpur Division

Ans :

Description of the map of Rangpur Division

The Rangpur Division is in the north of Bangladesh. It has eight districts– Rangpur, Dinajpur, Nilphamari, Panchagarh, Lalmonirhat, Thakurgaon, Kurigram and Gaibandha. This Division has border with the West Bengal of India to the west and to the north. And it is bordered with Meghalaya province of India to the east.

81 Look at the map of Satkhira district and describe in details :
Map of Satkhira District

Ans : Description of the map of Satkhira District

Satkhira is a south-western district of Bangladesh. This district has seven upazilas. They are Satkhira Sadar, Kalaroa, Tala, Debhata, Assasuni, Kaliganj and Shyamnagar. Kalaroa is the northernmost upazila and Shyamnagar is the southernmost upazila.

- 82 Look at the map of Tangail district and describe in details :
Map of Tangail District

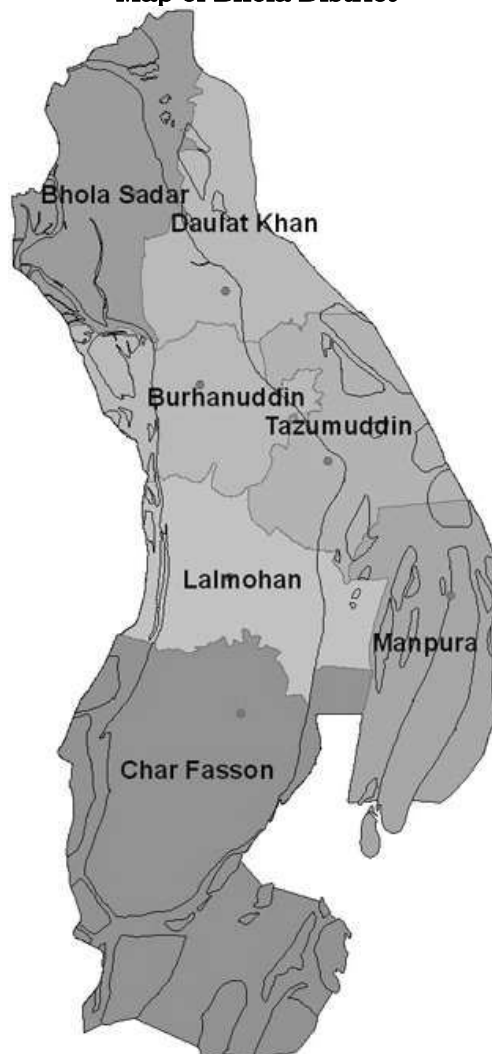

Ans :

Description of the map of Tangail District

Tangail is a northern district of Bangladesh. It has eleven upazilas—Madhupur, Gopalpur, Bhuapur, Ghatail, Kalihati, Tangail, Delduar, Basail, Sakhipur, Nagarpur and Mirzapur. Tangail is the headquarter.

- 83 Look at the map of Bhola district and describe in details :
Map of Bhola District

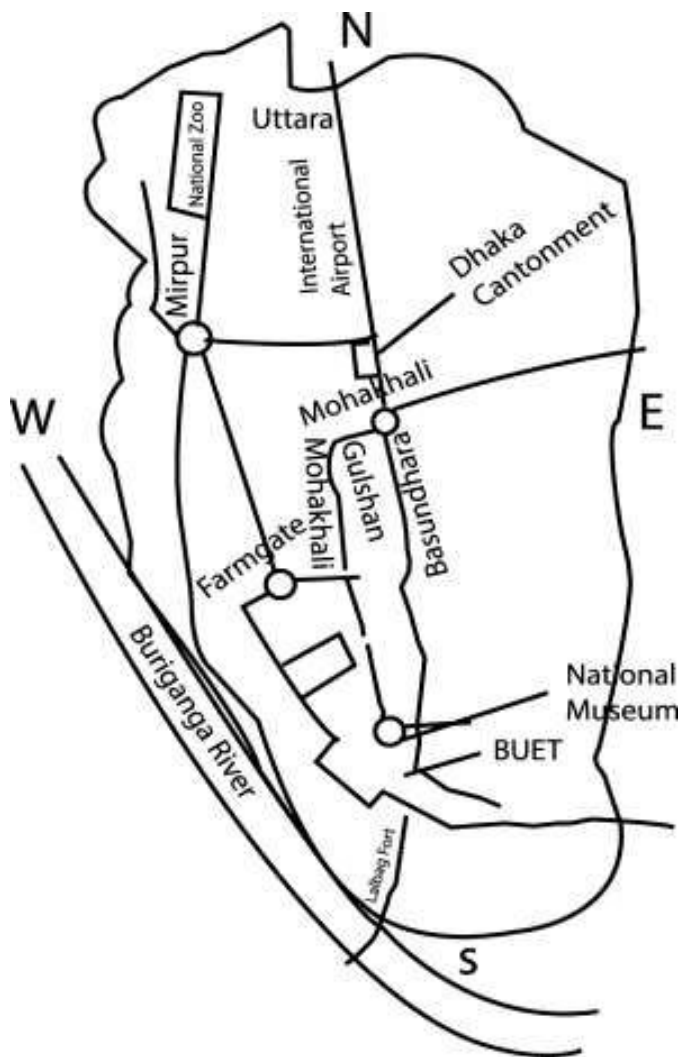

Ans :

Description of the map of Bhola District

Bhola is an island district of Bangladesh. It lies to the south of the country. Bhola has seven upazilas- Bhola sadar, Daulat Khan, Burhanuddin, Tazumuddin, Lalmohan, Char Fasson and Manpura. The river Meghna flows by it. To the south of the district, there is the Bay of Bengal.

- 84 Look at the map of Dhaka city with important establishments. Now, analyze the city map giving information in at least 80 words.

A Map of Dhaka City

Ans :

A Map of Dhaka City

It is a map of Dhaka, the capital city of Bangladesh. It shows important areas and establishments of the city.

The southernmost establishment of Dhaka is Lalbagh Fort. If one goes northward, one will find Dhaka Medical College, Dhaka University, Bangladesh University of Engineering and Technology (BUET) and the National Museum. Going northward, one will reach Shahbagh, Bangabandhu Sheikh Mujib Medical University, Dhaka College and Dhanmondi. Moving northwestward, one will go to Farmgate. In other northern sides, there are Mohakhali, Gulshan and Baridhara. Mirpur and the National Zoo lie in its northwestern side. The International Airport Road leads from Dhaka cantonment to the northernmost part of Dhaka Uttara.

These are the areas and establishments of the major part of Dhaka city.